

GERMAN INVASION ON COAST ROUTE HALTED DECLARE THE FRENCH

LINE TO CITY OF DUNKIRK IS CALLED INTACT

Battle Line Now North and South from Arras with Heavy Fighting at Lille

THINK BEGINNING OF END NEAR

German Strength Has Been Tried All Along Line and Found Wanting the French View

HAVE GAINED LARGE ADVANTAGE

Germans Held Back for Reinforcements and Allies Were Able to Force Them to Give Ground

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Oct. 19.—The German invasion of France by way of southern Belgium has been checked. The official communique, issued this afternoon, so declares. The Germans have been driven back from the sea coast as far as Roulers and the line to Dunkirk, strongly held by a combined Belgian army, is intact. The general battle line now extends almost due north and south from Arras with heavy fighting in the vicinity of Lille and La Basse.

Beginning of End?

It is believed the entire German strength has been tried, and has been found wanting. The proposed second attempt on Paris by way of the sea coast and the rich valley of the Seine is now expected to be abandoned, and already in many quarters can be heard the declaration that the retirement of the Germans entirely from northern France is in sight.

While this may be premature, there is no doubt that in the last 72 hours the allies have turned the tide of battle very much in their favor. Following the fall of Antwerp there were grave fears that the allies might be forced to give considerable ground. But the Germans held back for reinforcements, and the French general staff was able to withdraw large forces from certain portions of line where they could be spared and rush them to the threatened points in the vicinity of Dunkirk. At the same time, the British contingent, strongly aided by the French, assaulted the Germans in the vicinity of St. Omer, and drove them back to the vicinity of Lille, where they now are. The result was that Dunkirk was spared an attack from the southeast, and a combination of the German Belgian army and that of General Von Boehm was prevented.

Important Moves on Right

It is believed that the general operations by the French right wing are far more important than the meager announcements from military headquarters would indicate. The army of the German crown prince is being steadily forced backward in the direction of Stenay, and if sufficient pressure can be applied, it is believed here that the center will have to fall back to escape annihilation.

DECLARE 350,000 ALLIES HAVE BEEN TAKEN PRISONERS

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 19.—Sir Sven Andres Hedin, the noted Swedish explorer and author, writing from the German front, declares that the Germans have already taken 350,000 Belgian-French-British prisoners of war. He has been furnished an automobile by the direct order of the kaiser and goes from place to place with all of the freedom of a member of the German general staff.

"I pledge my word of honor," he writes, "that all stories of harsh treatment of their prisoners by Germans are utterly untrue." Hedin adds that he is convinced that Germany will never consent to any terms for ending the war that do not include complete recognition of Germany's victories.

CARRIERS RENEW THEIR PLEA FOR ADVANCED RATES

Say European War Has Brought on Crisis that Makes More Revenue Imperative

SAYS MARGINS HAVE DISAPPEARED

No Surplus After Paying Dividends Which Were Smallest Paid in Ten Years

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The interstate commerce commission's rehearing of 132 eastern railroads' applications for a five per cent advance in freight rates, was opened today with statements by Daniel E. Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and George M. Shriver, vice president of the same road, tending to show that the world war has brought such a crisis in railroad affairs that increased revenues are imperative.

Willard declared "the needs of the carriers are pressing and immediate."

Shriver, chairman of a committee of accounting officers appointed to compile data for the railroads, summarized conditions with the statement: "A striking feature of the 1914 returns is the complete disappearance of surplus, or margin. Figures presented showed the railroads in eastern territory paid average dividends of 4.58 per cent in 1914, but that their earnings were $8,000,000 less than the dividends. This year, however, he declared, was the first in sixteen years in which the railroads earned no surplus over the dividends paid. He pointed to the Pennsylvania, New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio railroads as examples. Their total surplus after an average of 5.53 per cent was $461,235, against $47,083,000 in 1913, and a yearly average of $38,733,000 for the last fifteen years.

Effect of War
Speaking of the effect of the war, Willard pointed out that the immediate and direct result has been stock market disturbance, but declared the ultimate and lasting consequence would be "enormous destruction of wealth, and great diversion of labor and capital to unproductive employment, thus causing a check to the world's accumulation of new capital, and a serious and prolonged rise in interest rates."

It is known that the railroads of the United States have over $520,000,000 of outstanding obligations, which will mature and must be met within the next twelve months alone. Further, as far as can be ascertained, there are more than three billion par value of American railroad securities held abroad as investments. The demands for cash in Europe, growing out of the present situation, will doubtless in large selling of such securities when the markets or stock exchanges are again opened, and the possible effect of such a selling upon railroad credit and related subjects is causing much concern."

MASKED MEN ROB JOHN STEPHAN'S

Bold Burglars Rob Popular Resort on Mormon Coulee Road and Get Fifteen Dollars from Register

HOUSEWIFE DISCOVERS PROWLERS

Mrs. Stephan Hears Noise at 3 A. M. Sunday and Awakes to See Man in Saloon; No Clues

Shortly after 3 o'clock Sunday morning masked robbers entered the John Stephan saloon on the Mormon Coulee road, carried the cash register into a rear yard and rifled it of $15 in cash.

One of the men was seen in the act of carrying the cash register out by Mrs. John Stephan, wife of the proprietor.

She having heard a strange noise, peered from her bed chamber into the saloon. She darted back into her room, slamming the door and awakening her husband. The robber fled with the cash register, firing a shot as he left the house.

From a window the robber and a pal were seen at work on the cash drawer.

The register was unlocked and the burglars had no difficulty in extracting the money without damage to the machine.

Entry was gained through the kitchen, which is downstairs. The sheriff's office has no clue.

FEELS TO INVADE GOTHAM

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—"There is every reason to believe that the Federal league will have a club in New York next year," President James A. Gilmore of the new league, declared upon his return from a secret conference in the metropolis. Both Gilmore and President Chas. Weeghman of the Chicago Federals, denied the truth of the report that the gum-shoe meeting in New York was for the purpose of making peace with organized baseball.

REPORTED GERMANS ARE INTO FRANCE ALONG THE COAST

Rotterdam Report Declares the Teutons are Now Only Ten Miles From Dunkirk

HAS NO OFFICIAL CONFIRMATION

London Dubious Over Report and Berlin Statement Has Nothing About the Story

NO CHANGE, DECLARE GERMANS

Continuous Fighting Without Decisive Result is Berlin's Resume of the Situation

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily Mail wires that it is reported from Berlin that the Germans have succeeded in crossing the Belgian border along side the coast and that they are now only ten miles from Dunkirk. The correspondent adds that the Germans are accompanied by heavy siege guns and that it is understood an attack on the Dunkirk forts will soon begin.

Not Confirmed

There is no official confirmation of the report here. However, the extreme left wing of the allied line is now made up of a combined Belgian-French force. News of its falling back would first come from Paris.

Berlin Says Little

BERLIN, via The Hague, Oct. 19.—The official war statement today characterizes the general situation in France and Belgium as unchanged. Troops are being re-assigned to new positions, it is stated, but naturally details of these movements are withheld. While there has been continuous fighting on the right wing, especially at points south from Ostend, it is announced that at no point have there been decisive results.

The Russians have vainly essayed to resume the offensive in the east. It is announced, but nowhere with success.

Go Ahead in Russia

BERLIN, via Wireless to the United Press through Sayville.—According to the war office the Russians are maintaining a force of 800,000 men in their effort to hold Warsaw and prevent General Von Dindenburg's attack being carried to a successful conclusion. Despite this fact, it is said that the German advance proceeds slowly but surely.

BLAINE CAMPAIGN OPENED AT HOLMEN WITH UNUSUAL CROWD TO HEAR SPEAKERS

Paragraphs Taken From Speeches at Holmen Saturday

Party loyalty was born when the railroads owned the state. It is a damnable doctrine, conceived in iniquity and bred in special privilege.

A man would be a traitor to himself to urge and vote for Philipp or Karel when in his heart he knows they are wrong. It is argued that Philipp, if elected, cannot do harm. It's a lie! He can.

Wisconsin has but nibbled at the edges of progressive government. Would you stop now? Blaine is a progressive. Philipp, for expediency, swallowed a luke-warm progressive platform which he immediately supplemented with stalwart doctrine.

If you believed in progressive measures two and four years ago, how can you now support a man who is campaigning on promises to kill these measures?

It is far better to be patriots than partisans. It is far better to follow our hearts than badges.

If anyone thinks we are wrong in bolting the party for governor just remember we got the example from the stalwarts.—Extracts from the addresses of Messrs. Thompson, Kneen and Bosshard at Blaine gubernatorial meeting at Holmen Saturday night.

FARMERS BAND IN PLAN FOR "CO-OP" MARKETS IN CITY

Form $100,000 Corporation to Buy All Produce of Farmers and Sell Direct to Consumer

PURCHASE THOMAS-PHALON PLANT

In Addition to Feed Mill a Modern Retail Store Will Be Conducted According to Plan

EQUITY SOCIETY BACKS PLAN

La Crosse Men on Directorate; to Divide Profits Among Those Who Sell to Store

A Farmers' Co-operative Market Co., with a capital stock of $100,000 and the purpose of which is to buy all the farmer produces, excepting livestock, and to sell direct to the consumer, eliminating the middleman and therefore reducing the selling price, has been formed in La Crosse.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state at Madison, directors for the coming year have been selected and plans already made for the taking over of the Thomas-Phalon feed mills and sales rooms in this city.

Officers Elected

The original incorporators are Edward Dittman, Joseph Dubraks, Alexander Rose and C. A. Thomas. Officers have already been elected as follows:

Ira M. J. Chryst, president, Hudson, Wis., three years.
C. A. Thomas, vice president, La Crosse, Wis., one year.
Wesley Dawson, vice president, La Crosse, Wis., two years.
Alexander Rose, sec.-treas., La Crosse, Wis., two years.
J. W. Hanks, assistant secretary-treasurer, La Crosse, Wis., two years.
Theophile Jolivet, director, French Island, three years.

The new company is authorized under the Wisconsin Co-operative law and it is the intention of the company to handle for its stockholders all of their produce, excepting livestock.

Divide Profits

After six per cent dividends are paid upon the stock outstanding and a reasonable amount set aside for reserve fund, the balance of the net profits of the company are practically divided among the stockholders in proportion to the amount of produce they have sold to or purchased from the company. This is very similar to the so-called "overrun" which the farmers receive from their various co-operative creameries. Much of the stock in the company is already subscribed and the subscriptions for the balance are being rapidly received. This company is being fostered by the American Society of Equity and the financing of the company is being advanced by F. A. S. Price, an officer of the Society of Equity and chairman of its national organization committee.

Equity Officer Here

It was also announced today that a branch office of the American Society of Equity will be opened in La Crosse soon with F. A. S. Price in charge.

The new co-operative marketing company is financed by the Equity Securities Co., Chicago, an organizer of co-operative enterprises.

BLAINE MEETINGS TONIGHT

Two big Blaine meetings are to be held in the county tonight. One will be at Rockland with Attorney James Thompson and former Congressman Frank Coburn as the speakers. The other will be at the town of Burns with Attorney Charles Schweizer and Senator Otto Bosshard as the speakers.

Before an enthusiastic audience of eighty people the Blaine gubernatorial campaign in La Crosse county was opened in Progressive hall at Holmen Saturday night by Senator Otto Bosshard, Assemblyman E. J. Kneen and Attorney James Thompson.

Philippism, Karelism and old party "regularity" received a bitter arraignment at the hands of the speakers who declared themselves now and for all time to come committed to the policy of voting as their hearts dictate and not on the false theory of "party patriotism."

J. M. Halderson, republican county committeeman, presided. Mr. Halderson has always been an ardent progressive and is active in behalf of Mr. Blaine.

Prior to the Holmen meeting it had been rumored in La Crosse that W. E. Barber, rock-ribbed stalwart, and Harry Watkins, who was first heard of as a bull moose two years ago, were coming up to "trim Bosshard and Thompson." They were there but took no issue with either of the speakers, despite the bitter arraignment of men of their political views.

Blaine Move Going

"The only influence you should feel in deciding the governorship," said Attorney Thompson, "is the question of the greatest good for the greatest number. The wave for Blaine is already gaining force and when the final vote is cast in November the issue between progressivism and standpatism will be settled for all time in Wisconsin."

"What do Karel and Philipp stand for? I want to state right here that I do not care a snap of my finger for personalities in this campaign. The only question is 'What will they do for us?'"

"We know Philipp. He's no stranger. We have known him for fifteen years. We have known him ever since the start of the struggle to bring the government back to the people. He has opposed every piece of progressive legislation in the last fourteen years. You all know his stand on the railroads. Likewise, you all know of his offer to La Follette, while the latter was governor, to permit the passage of the primary election law, providing 'Bob' would kill the bill which provided for the just taxation of the railroads."

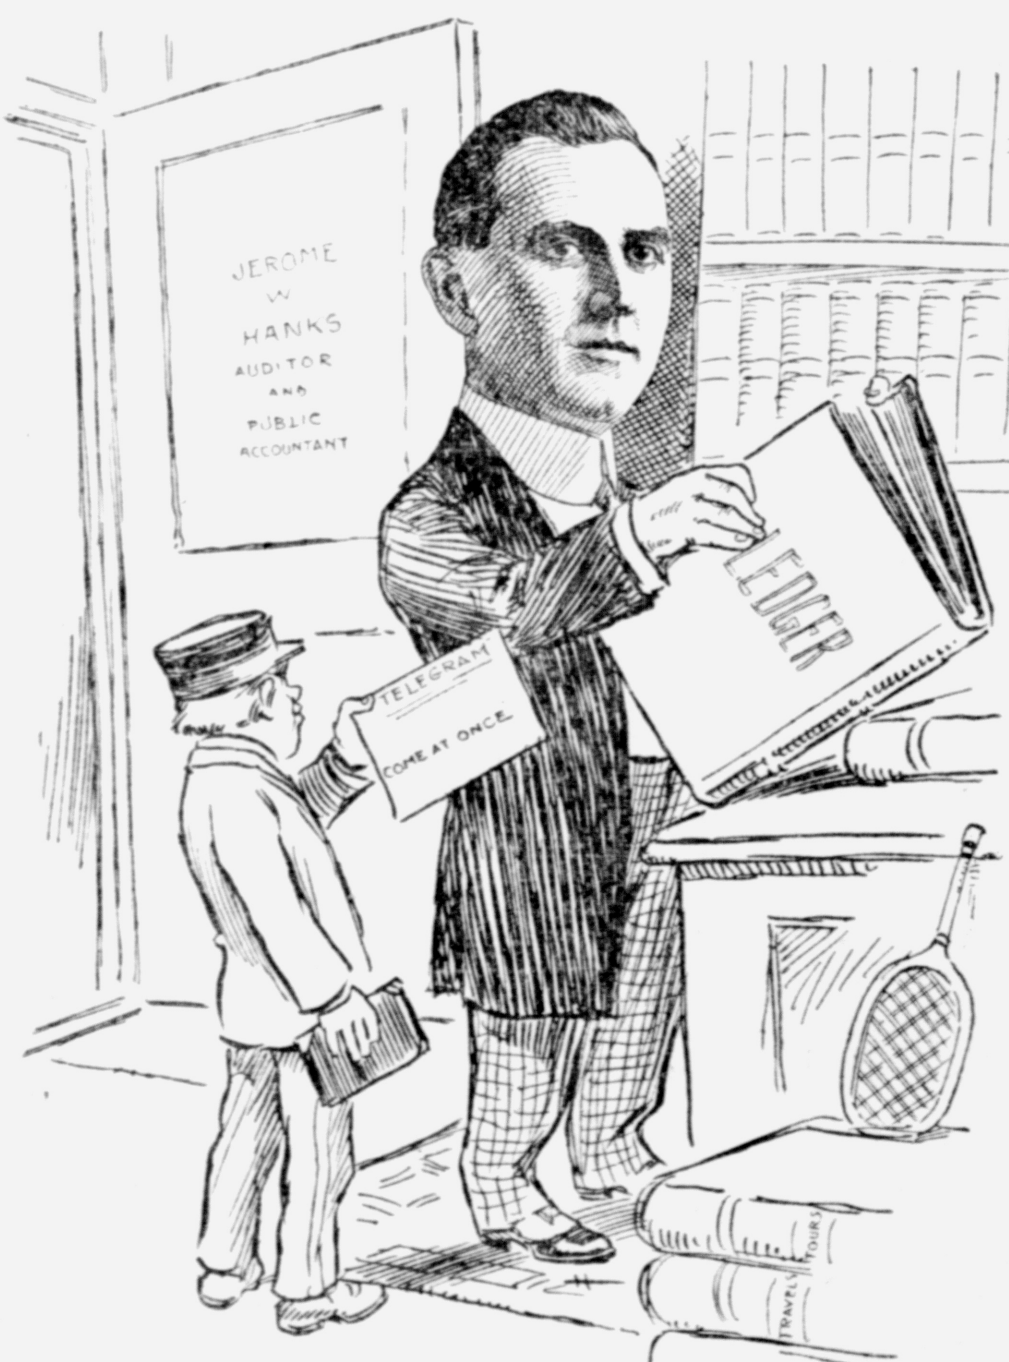

Stalwart Spokesman

"He has been the spokesman of the stalwarts through all these years, and he has never given up. When the rest felt that they were beaten and were inclined to sleep, he called them down to Madison, as his personal henchmen to nominate him—to nominate him on a platform that suggested not a single new thing."

"In the progressive camp there was a division. There were four candidates for governor. While the progressives had 111,000 votes in the primary to the 75,000 stalwarts, the stalwarts nominated their men because of their unity. And now—for so-called regularity—they ask us to vote for the men who are not our choice and who in no way represent the principles for which we stand."

"We find ourselves in the same miserable condition we were in in La Crosse county several years ago (Continued on Page 5)

TWO NEAR DEATH WHEN HORSE BOLTS

Mrs. Henry Horemann and Daughter Are Thrown from Buggy on Cement Pavement in Salem

WEST SALEM, Wis., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Henry Horemann and her daughter, members of the family of a farmer west of the village, had a narrow escape from death last Tuesday, when a horse which they were driving became frightened and bolted. Mrs. Horemann and her daughter were thrown to the cement pavement just north of the Farmers' store. They were severely bruised, but no bones were broken. The horse freed himself from the buggy and escaped, being captured some hours later.

Mission Festival Success.
The German Lutheran congregation celebrated its mission festival as had been planned. Favorable weather made a large attendance possible and a large number of visitors enjoyed the hospitality of the congregation. The speakers of both morning and afternoon exhorted their hearers to support and be active in missionary work, having taken for their texts Galatians 6:9, 10 and First Corinthians 15:58 respectively. The evening sermon was of a more general character. The male choir of Barre Mills rendered several appropriate selections.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO OR STIFFNESS AWAY

Rub pain from back with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil."

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, backache or rheumatism so promptly. It never disappoints!

NEURALGIC PAINS

Among the causes of neuralgia the most important is the general physical condition of the patient. Neuralgia is most common in persons reduced in strength by overwork or some form of over-exertion, physical or mental, or by loss of sleep. Anaemia, or lack of good, red blood is a common cause of neuralgia. The reason for this is plain. The nerves get their nourishment through the blood. When the blood is thin and weak the nerves are badly nourished, they become inflamed and neuralgic pains are produced. These pains have been described as "the cry of a starved nerve."

Hot applications to soothe these inflamed nerves and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood and carry the needed elements to the nerves is the correct treatment and one that has brought good results in so many cases that it is no longer an experiment. Headache, backache, sleeplessness, nervous debility, nervous breakdown, St. Vitus' dance and the functional forms of partial paralysis show good results under the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Send today for the booklet on Nervous Disorders to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. It is free.

BLAINE

(From the Madison State Journal.)

John Blaine of Boscobel has announced his candidacy for governor. His announcement has re-enfranchised a quarter of a million voters of Wisconsin who were disfranchised by the result of the primary which, because of the division of the progressives, made it possible for two pronounced reactionaries to secure the republican and democratic nominations for governor. Philipp and Karel were nominated by a very small minority of the voters of Wisconsin. The majority of the voters who at the primary voted for Aylward, Hatton, Dahl, Hull, Roethe and Utman are still opposed by conviction to the election of either Philipp or Karel. These voters who constitute the majority of the voters of this state will welcome the announcement of an independent candidate who is courageously devoted to the principles of government and little concerned about the names of parties when parties cease to stand for principle. Both the republican and democratic parties in Wisconsin today stand squarely against efficient democratic government; they stand today pledged to oppose the initiative, referendum and recall which put this government into the hands of the people themselves; they stand for the destruction of the people's government. The republican party even fails to express the courage of its own determination in this battle; it commends the legislative record of the past; at the same time it is determined to destroy that which it commends. It is a pathetic spectacle to see men who once stood for principle now stand for party against principle for the lame and illogical reason of being "regular."

Real American citizens have ever honored the man who stood uncompromisingly for the integrity of government. That is why the voters of Wisconsin will welcome the nomination of Blaine of Boscobel, a man who at all times has had the courage of his convictions and who has honored his convictions above his party.

When practically every member in the state senate felt that the election of United States Senator Stephenson was not without the taint of purchase, when they all felt it was the duty of the state senate to investigate that election, there was no state senator who was able to find a pen handy to sign the order for that investigation until they ran into Blaine of Boscobel. Blaine of Boscobel had no difficulty in finding a pen. He signed it. That's the kind of a man Wisconsin needs at this hour and that's the kind of a man she finds in Blaine of Boscobel.

When in the last national campaign the voters of Wisconsin, as of every state, were obliged to choose between voting for Mr. Taft, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Roosevelt or doing the unworthy thing of not voting at all, Mr. Blaine had always been a republican in this state, refused to support the national republican ticket and declared that he had no quarrel with any man who might choose to vote for Roosevelt, but that he himself would vote for Wilson. And he did more than vote for Wilson; he organized the Wilson republican forces of Wisconsin. That's the kind of a man we have in Blaine of Boscobel. The voters of Wisconsin will express their appreciation of and confidence in Mr. Blaine four weeks hence. They will honor him for his courage and his candor, for his willingness to fight for them.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

IRMA INTERFERES

BY MOLLY M'MASTER

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

In his heart John Craig longed for the day when the footlights would cease to be an attraction for his wife. He was too big and too broad in his love for her to demand that she leave the stage and live a quiet, domestic life at his side. He had fallen in love with her as a star, wooed and won her as such and now as wife and mother Sybel Craig still was, a resplendent star in the theatrical firmament.

John Junior was a scant three months old when his mother began rehearsal for her new play. It had been a shock to Craig. He had somehow counted on the arrival of John Junior as a barrier to Sybel's prolonged stage career, but she had laughingly told him that she could act the better now that she had a son to be proud of her.

"You would grow frightfully tired of me anyway," she added, "if I were about the house all evening."

"I grow tired of not having you, dear," Craig had told her, and was not quite aware of the extent of his weariness. He only knew that his evenings alone in the house while his wife was playing to crowded theaters were beginning to bore him.

John Junior loved her instinctively. Sybel loved her because she possessed all the domestic and stirring virtues that Sybel herself lacked. And John Craig? But he did not know that she loved her. He only knew that evenings of complete boredom were a thing of the past and that his wife's career was no longer so severe a thorn prick in his happiness.

Had Sybel loved her husband in a more selfish way she would have seen that Irma's position in the household was nothing but temptation flung in the path of two persons. But Sybel felt secure in her husband's love, and it did not for a second occur to her that he would turn his affections in another direction.

Craig, however, was only human. He had married because he wanted a home and a wife to tread the path of life beside him. He had regretted that love had come to him across the footlights, but she would love him more than her audience and applause. The time seemed long in coming. In the meantime Irma Newton entered the Craig household and discontent turned slowly into a most delightful feeling of peace.

When Irma had been in the house six weeks Craig knew that his contentment would vanish if she were to leave. He knew also that his wife's career was seldom in his mind and that his evenings were not marred by her absence. Neither did he feel that Irma was bending over John Junior, when it should have been Sybel, annoy him. In fact Craig found himself appreciating the light on golden hair and finding it more lovely than on black. Sybel's hair was raven black. Also he knew that he was beginning to study Irma's eyes for an expression he wanted to see there.

The situation was so completely harmonious for all concerned that it was not until the serpent was already in the grass beneath their feet that Irma awoke to the full significance of it. She had been sitting beside the fire with John Junior in her arms when Craig had come quietly into the room. He had not spoken, but his eyes had revealed the whole truth even as if his lips had spoken it. Irma knew then that the serpent had stirred. She wondered how long the serpent had been there and how deeply Craig's happiness was affected. She was more grieved than stung when the truth dawned on her.

her. Irma spent a night in grave thought. She knew that Craig could not long remain silent and she shrank from the scene that must assuredly follow. She recoiled from the knowledge that she had robbed another woman of her husband's love. Innocent though her own action in the matter had been.

"There must be some way out of it," she told herself over and over again. "John Craig is far too fine a man to wreck his matrimonial life on the rocks, and his wife is too thoughtful to put out a beacon light for him. I wonder—I wonder how I can save him." Irma felt that Sybel Craig was more to blame than her husband, and that he would have remained faithful in his love had she made the very slightest attempt to hold him.

"She must make that attempt," Irma told herself. "I shall tell her exactly how matters stand."

It was a brave decision to come to, but Irma was no coward. Besides she realized that should Sybel Craig display the same pride in her personal life as she did in her public position as John Craig's wife. She would not, Irma reasoned, like to see herself as a deserted woman. Sybel was having her 11 o'clock cup of tea when Irma knocked at her door. It was not an unusual visit, so that Mrs. Craig was not surprised. They were wont to talk things over at that hour of the morning.

"Mrs. Craig," began Irma without preamble, "your husband imagines himself in love with me, and I want you to help me to prevent him telling me so."

Sybel went a shade pale. She was not, however, theatrical in her private life and her answer was unexpectedly calm.

"Why do you say he imagines himself in love with you?"

"Because he is not really—he only thinks so. He and I have been thrown together continually and he is a man essentially fond of feminine companionship. He has not had that from you. It is most natural, then, that his nature should respond to the presence of any woman sensitive to his personality."

Sybel Craig gazed in a more or less vacant way at Irma. Perhaps for the first time in her life she was looking at a situation from another person's point of view.

"You are not so selfish as you are thoughtless," Irma went on as if following out her own thoughts. "Your husband loves you and wants you at his side and you have never stopped to realize that you have never considered his desires—only your own. In this life we really should try to make others happy rather than ourselves—don't you think so?" Irma asked the question in a perfectly impersonal way. She was trying desperately to retain the atmosphere of unemotional reasoning. She hated scenes of any kind and felt a respect for Sybel beyond that which she had known because Mrs. Craig had accepted the situation calmly.

"I think," Sybel said from out of her depths of thought, "that I have been vaguely conscious of all this. My husband is very dear to me. I could never love any man as I do him. Perhaps he has been less lenient with me and demanded that I quit the stage I would have done so and been more than happy, but—my duty has never been pointed out to me and I have not been wise enough to see it for myself." Her head went forward on her arms, but she did not weep; she was only trying to shut out the picture of John Junior's father being happy with another woman.

"Your understudy," suggested Irma softly. "Could she not take your play from tonight, so that you may stay at home and teach your husband the art of loving you all over again? I will stay with you for a time, so that he will never suspect this little chat we have had. After that, if you like, I will leave you to your happiness."

Irma arose and slipped quickly from the room. She realized that Sybel would want time to think. It would not be an easy matter to give up stardom for domestic life, yet Irma felt that Sybel would not hesitate.

It was not until after dinner that John Craig was asked a very simple question.

"John," Sybel asked in a voice that strove to keep the fear from showing, "would you consider me fanciful if I chose to quit the stage from tonight on and just stay at home to make you and John Junior happy?"

She did not realize until she saw the glad light in his eyes how fearful she had been of his answer.

Possibly any girl could learn to love a fellow if he gave her the right kind of instruction.

GROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

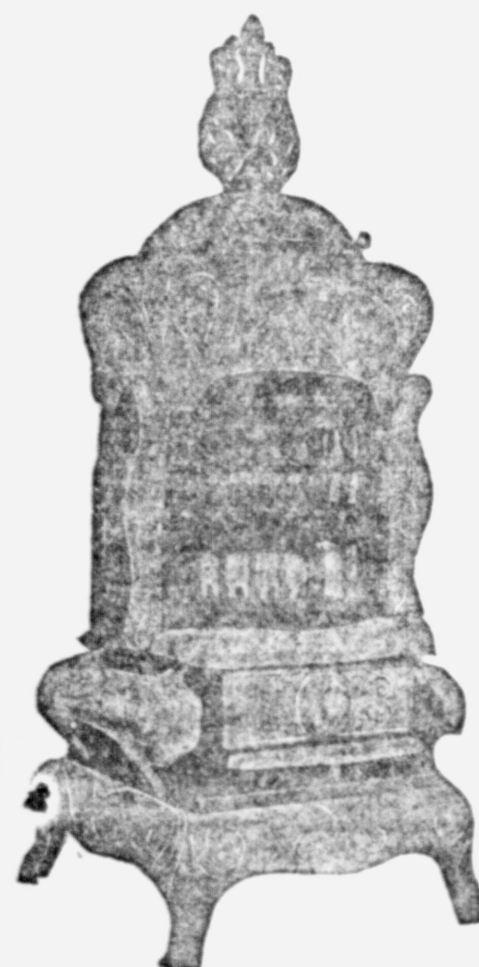

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs."

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well-playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

WILL THE LEADERS
FAIL TO LEAD

The habit of politics is the one thing that can defeat John J. Blaine for governor.

The trouble is with the leaders.
Habit has chained men to party; the rank and file of voters are itching to break over the party line to Blaine, but they are watching the progressive leaders. "If the progressive leaders get over the fence, we can follow," is the thought that dominates.

In La Crosse county Bosshard, Kneen, Thompson, Coburn and Schweizer crossed the fence at a single bound. Hence Blaine will carry the county. In many other counties the leaders have stepped to the front, and the people will follow. But in some counties few leaders, and in all counties some leaders, are hanging back.

Why?
We venture the opinion that there is not a progressive leader in Wisconsin who would not be out for Blaine if he KNEW BLAINE WOULD WIN.

Not "is he right?" but "will he win?"
For a party line good men reverse the moral question. If he is right, he should be supported regardless of his ability to win; if he is wrong,
the sure winner should be opposed.

Draw a line dividing your potential energy and intelligence in the middle. Call the line "party." Then say to yourself, "I can pursue the right to this line, but no further; I must not follow the right across this line."

That is what many political leaders are doing. And when they, trusted of the people, falter before an imaginary obstacle which is but the shadow of habit, need they blame those who have followed if they do not press on and lead the leaders?

WHAT ONE CITY MANAGER DID

Dayton, Ohio, has proven the success of city managers under non-partisan commissions.

Like Houston, Texas, the system was the result of a crisis. Following the disastrous floods at both these places, the need of a more efficient and a more speedy governmental machine was felt. Unwieldy common councils and cross-purposed boards would not do when there was work to be done quickly.

The report of Dayton's manager, rendered recently to the commission and portions of which have been printed in the National Municipal Review, details 100 items in which the administration of city business has been "jacked up," money saved and larger and better service rendered.

Among the things accomplished by Dayton's manager have been the completion of plans for the elimination of railroad grade crossings; reduction of the current deficit of $125,000; securing of plans for a garbage disposal plant; the more prompt payment of contractors for public works; the building of the Valley street bridge for $12,000 less than the appropriation therefor; the development of more efficient methods for cleaning downtown streets;
reduced coal consumption in the water supply department; cutting the infant death rate for June, 1914, to one-half the rate for the same month during the three years previous; the building of a storm sewer for less than two-thirds the appropriation and the discounting of all bills in the purchasing department at two per cent.

"Doubtless anyone or all of these achievements could have been accomplished under any form of government," says The Review, "but the fact is THEY WERE NOT."

When in the history of La Crosse has public work been done for LESS than the appropriation?

How many instances have we witnessed when public work cost MORE than the appropriation?

A PITIABLE
SPECTACLE

An amusing feature of the political campaign is the desperate efforts of the old-gang Tory Republican organs to make Mr. Philipp appear one of them.—Milwaukee Journal.

They don't have to "make it appear". All they need do is quote from the columns you have devoted to indicting him as a stalwart. His personal platform indicts him.

Don't be so silly as to think you can wipe out the history of the "Eleventh Story League," the published speeches and interviews of Philipp from year to year. In every community in the state your contention of Philipp, "progressiveism" is challenged by the personnel of Philipp's leadership.

In La Crosse George H. Gordon is the sine of stalwartism, and we know no better example of political loyalty than Gordon's attachment to Philipp. Were you to accuse him of double dealing with the candidate, face to face, probably he would muss up your editorial physiognomy. The one emotion which these men entertain more intense than their resentment of our opposition is the contempt in which they hold the weak-kneed progressive who is always ready for a joy-ride on the band wagon.

The janitor of The Hague peace palace is still on the job, but he doesn't have much to do.

It seems as though a buy-a-codfish movement should be inaugurated in Boston.

Orchard Lands of Long Ago

The orchard lands of Long Ago!
O, drowsy winds, awake and blow
The snowy blossoms back to me!
And all the buds that used to be!
Blow back along the grassy ways
Of happy Summer from the trees
That trail their dresses in the seas
Of grain that float and overflow
The orchard lands of Long Ago!

Blow back the melody that slips
In lazy laughter from the lips,
That marvel much if any kiss
Is sweeter than the apple's is.
Blow back the twitter of the birds—
The lisp, the titter, and the words
Of merriment that found the shine
Of Summer time a glorious wine
That drenched the leaves that loved
It so

In orchard lands of Long Ago!
O, memory! alight and sing
Where rosy bellied plovers cling,
And golden russets glint and gleam
As in the old Arabian dream
The fruits of that enchanted tree
The glad Aladdin robbed for me!
And, drowsy winds, awake and fan
My blood as when it overran
A heart ripe as the apples grow
In orchard lands of Long Ago!

Saved the Bait
Harold Frederick used to tell a story of a dorky who was out fishing with a little boy about 3 years old, and while at play on the bank of the stream the youngster fell into the water. Immediately the colored man waded in and, catching him by the seat of the pantaloons, pulled him onto dry ground. A minister who happened to have seen the occurrence complimented him on his quick action and his bravery, for the stream was a swift one.
"Well," said the dorky, "I had to save that kid's life, boss, for he had de bait in his pocket."

Got to Go Deep to Cure Rheumatism

Liniments Help Locally, But the Disease is Way Down Inside.

To get at the source of rheumatism pains it requires the deep, searching influence of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. Rheumatism is primarily a blood disease that, since it is in this vital fluid that rheumatic tendencies are carried, lodges in the joints and muscles, there to irritate the nerves and produce pain.
And in order to drive out these pain inflicting poisons it requires S. S. S. to sink deep into the tiny glands imbedded in the innermost tissues. S. S. S. travels wherever the blood goes and never loses its medicinal influence. This explains why it overcomes the most chronic forms of rheumatism, why it dissolves those hard deposits that thicken the joints, for it acts as a solvent and assists the blood to provide in the tissues those natural elements for which the body-building process continually craves and must have.

If you have never used S. S. S. for rheumatism, get a bottle today of any druggist. Use it as directed and with some simple home helps you will soon dethrone the worst and most painful forms of rheumatism. Write the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 63 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for additional advice. Yours may be a case where a slight help from a specialist whose advice is free, will solve the mystery that has been making life miserable for you. When you ask for S. S. S. insist upon it and refuse all substitutes.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES
INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends
all stomach distress in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach —which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt;
if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stomach lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only five cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it di-gests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astounding. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, dis-ordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

bill. When presenting this bill to the superintendent he discovered that it was bad and he became greatly excited. He would know, if he saw him again, the man who had swindled him, and day after day he would stand in front of the building in the hope of catching the rascal going by.

The superintendent several weeks later happened to think of the jan-itor's counterfeit and asked him if he had succeeded in finding the man who had cheated him.
"No," said the janitor, "de man dat give me de bill he ain't never come around no more. But what's de difference? Some days, suh, I think de bill is good and some days
I think it's bad. So I am waitin' for one of dem days when I thinks it's good and then I passes it out."

Wisdom For Thomas

The thoughtful look on young Thomas' face betrayed that he had a few questions to ask. As soon as Mrs. Boardman had gone, he asked them.

"Mother," said he, "do you like to kiss Mrs. Boardman?"
"No, dear."
"Do you think Mrs. Boardman likes to kiss you?"
"I don't think she does."
"Then why do you and she always kiss when you meet?"
"I don't know, dear."
"Don't you think Mrs. Boardman would rather you didn't kiss her?"
"I have no doubt of it."
"Wouldn't you rather Mrs. Boardman didn't kiss you?"
"Oh, very much rather."
"Then," said young Thomas, conclusively, "that must be why."

Experience and Economy

"What will you charge," said a young man to a jeweler, "to engrave on the inside of this ring 'From George to Alice'?" It's an engagement ring, but I have to economize, you know."
"Well, sir," answered the jeweler,
"I would advise that you merely have the words 'From George' and then it will do to use again."

Appreciation Defined

W. B. Trites, the American novelist, who had to go to London to get published, where his books achieved a great success, was lunching in Germantown when his host's little son asked:
"Father, what is appreciation?"
"Appreciation," said Mr. Trites,
"is, my boy, a rare malady, something like ber-beri—people get it far away from home."

Fragrance of Flowers.

Flowers are more fragrant when the sun is not shining on them, according to a French scientist, because the oils that produce the perfume are forced out by the water pressure in the plant cells and this is diminished by sunlight.

Substitute for Meat.

Experiments show that cottonseed meal makes a palatable, nourishing and economical food for human beings when mixed with corn meal or wheat flour. A pound of digestible protein is 15 times as expensive in meat as it is in cottonseed meal.

He did not question the justice of this sequel to his earlier life. No doubt deeds of long ago, never punished, demanded a sacrifice. He hated the agents of this justice not so much because they threatened his liberty, his life, as because they stepped in between himself and Lahoma. Always a man of expedients, he now sought some way of frustrating justice, and naturally his plans took the color of violence. Denied the savage joy of killing Red Kimball—and he would have killed him with as little compunction as if he had been a wolf—his thoughts turned toward Gledware.

Gledware was the only witness of the deed for which the warrant demanded his arrest. Willock wished many of his other deeds had been prompted by impulse as generous as those which had led to Kansas Kimball's death. Perhaps it was the irony of justice that he should be threatened by the one act of bloodshed which had saved Lahoma's life. If he must be hanged or imprisoned, because he had not, like the rest of the band, given himself up for official pardon, it was as well to suffer from one deed as from another. But it would be better still, as in the past, to escape all consequences.
Without Gledware, they could prove nothing.

Would Gledware testify, now that Red Kimball, who had bought his testimony with the death of the indian, no longer lived to exact payment? Willock felt sure he would.
In the first place, Gledware had placed himself on record as a witness, hence could hardly retreat;
in the second place, he would doubtless be anxious to rid himself of the danger of ever meeting Willock, whom his conscience must have caused him to hate with the hatred of the man who wrongs his benefactor.

Willock transferred all his rage against the dead enemy to the living.
He reminded himself how Gledware had caused the death of Red Feather, not in the heat of fury or in blind terror, but in cold-blooded bargaining. He meditated on Gledware's attitude toward Lahoma; he thought nothing good of him, he magnified the evil. That scene at the grave of his wife—and Red Feather's account of how he had dug up the body for a mere pin of pearl and onyx . . .
Ought such a creature to live to condemn him, to bring sorrow on the stepdaughter he had basely refused to acknowledge?

To wait for the coming of the witness would be to lose an opportunity that might never recur. Willock would go to him. In doing so, he would not only take Gledware by surprise, but would leave the only neighborhood in which search would be made for himself. Thus it came about that while the environs of the cove were being minutely examined, Brick, riding his fastest pony, was on the way to Kansas City.

He reached Kansas City without unusual incident, where he was accepted naturally, as a product of the West. Had his appearance been twice as uncouth, twice as wild, it would have accorded all the better with western superstitions that prevailed in this city, fast forgetting that it had been a western outpost. At the hotel, whose situation he knew from Lahoma's letters, he learned that Gledware was neither there, nor at his home in the country. The country-house was closed up and, in fact, there was a rumor that it was sold, or was about to be sold. One of the porters happened to know that Gledware had gone for a week's diversion down in the Ozarks. There were a lake, a club-house, a dancing-hall, as yet unopened. The season was too early for the usual crowd at Ozark Lodge, but the warm wave that nearly always came at this time of year, had prompted a sudden outing party which might last no longer than the warm wave.

Willock took the first train south and rode with the car window up—the outside breath was the breath of balmy summer though the trees stood bleak and leafless against the sky. Two days ago, snow had fallen —but the birds did not remember it. Seven hours brought him to a lonely wagon-trail called Ozark Lodge because after winding among hills several miles it at last reached the club-house of that name overlooking the lake. He left the train in the dusk of evening, and walked briskly away, the only moving figure in the wilderness.

His pace did not slacken till a gleam as of fallen sky cupped in night-fringe warned him that the club-house must be near. A turn of a hill brought it into view; the windows not yet aglow. Nearer at hand was the boat-house, seemingly deserted. But as Willock, now grown wary, crept forward among the post-oaks and blackjacks, well screened from observation by chinkapin masses of gray interlocked network, he discovered two figures near the platform edging the lake. Neither was the one he sought; but from their being there—they were Edgerton Compton and Annabel—he knew Gledware could not be far away.

"No," Annabel was saying de-visively, and yet with an accent of regret, "no, Edgerton, I can't."
"But our last boat-ride," he urged, "don't refuse me the last ride—a ride to think about all my life. I'm going away tomorrow at noon, as I promised. But early in the morning—"

"I have promised him," she said with lingering sadness in her voice.
"So I must go with him. He has already engaged the boatman. He'll be here at seven, waiting for me. So you see—"

"Annabel, I shall be here at seven,
also!" he exclaimed impetuously.

"But why? I must go with him, Edgerton. You see that."

"Then I shall row alone."

"Why would you add to my unhappiness?" she pleaded.

"I shall be here at seven," he returned grimly; "while you and he turn your morning boat-ride. I shall row alone."

She turned from him with a sigh.

The Champion Lie.

There are about five hundred and thirty-four thousand, two hundred and seventy-six prize lies in training. But here is the champion lie: Once upon a time a man came home with a bun at 3:30 a. m., and his wife met him at the door with a kiss and helped him take off his shoes.

A Period of High Prices

such as we are entering upon now is going to be a time of prosperity for farmers because they have abundant products to sell at the high prices.

We would remind the farmers of this section that it is the part of wisdom to preserve part of their present prosperity in the form of deposits in the bank, forming a reserve fund and a basis for credit as emergency or opportunity may arise in the future.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

JAPAN—The Japanese protected cruiser Takachiho struck a mine and sunk off the entrance to Kiao Chan bay with a loss of 344 men.

ENGLAND—It is announced that the British drove the German army of Gen. Von Boehm eastward thirty miles from St. Omer to Armentieres. Anti-German riots rage in London.

FRANCE—Because of the bad weather conditions there has been a cessation of fighting at a good many points along the battle line. The heaviest fighting is reported close to the Belgium border and on the French right north of Toul and Nancy.

BELGIUM—The Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily Mail in London wires a report that the Germans have crossed the Belgian frontier into France near the sea coast and are within ten miles of Dunkirk. This is not officially confirmed.

RUSSIA—The fighting west of Warsaw and along the San River in Galicia continues without decision.

AUSTRIA—The war office declares that the Russians have already lost 40,000 attempting to capture Przemyśl.

GERMANY—The war office announcement today states that there has been little change in either the eastern or western theatre of war.

MONTENEGRO—The government officially confirms Saturday's report that a French warship has sunk an Austrian destroyer near Cattaro and that the bombardment of this Adriatic port continues.

RESTAURANT HIT BY EARLY FIRE

Fire of unknown origin early this morning gutted the kitchen of the American restaurant at 522 Mill street, doing a damage of several hundred dollars.

The fire was discovered at 3:00 o'clock by employees of Mrs. H. H. Wettenhall, proprietor. Fast work on the part of department No. 2 saved the building. The damage is covered by insurance. The building is owned by the O'Neill estate.

BURLINGTON TRAIN KILLS UNKNOWN MAN

Victim Believed to Be Laborer; Was Sitting on Tracks Near Genoa, Wis.

An unknown man was hit and almost instantly killed at 6 o'clock yesterday morning by passenger No. 49 on the Burlington. The accident occurred one mile north of Genoa when the train was traveling between fifty and sixty miles an hour. The body was picked up and brought to La Crosse where it was turned over to the Elbertson and Drake undertaking firm. Efforts of the police to identify the man have failed.

The man was about 35 years of age, 5 to 7 inches tall, and weighed about 140 pounds. He had a dark, stubby mustache. His hair was rather thin at the top.

On his overalls was a brass tag with the number 9123. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

A LA CROSSE CITIZEN COMES TO THE FRONT

Tells His Friends and Neighbors of His Experience

Every La Crosse resident should read what a neighbor says. His testimony can be relied upon. Here are his own words:

John B. Fries, 425 N. Ninth St., La Crosse, says: "My kidneys were disordered for at least ten years. The complaint always came on unexpectedly, lasting for a few weeks and then leaving me again, only to come back. Some of the attacks were very painful and the trouble seemed to affect my back. The kidney secretions were disordered, too. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. They relieved the ailments at once and soon fixed up my kidneys in good shape. It gives me pleasure to confirm the endorsement I have given Doan's Kidney Pills before."

FIRE DESTROYS WIDOW'S HOME

Five-room Cottage of Mrs. Mary Depper on French Island Burns to the Ground Saturday

GASOLINE STOVE EXPLOSION

Tank Explodes when Leak from Pipe Catches Spark; Cared for by Neighbors Today

Mrs. Mary Depper, French Island widow, is today homeless.

Her new five room cottage, practically all she had in the world, is burned to the ground. Part of the furniture was saved with the help of neighbors. Mrs. Depper's cottage was located a few rods south of James Sokol's place.

Lighting a gasoline stove to prepare supper Saturday night, Mrs. Depper was not aware that the stove leaked. She touched a match to the burner and went into another room. Her being out of the room probably saved her life. While she was gone, the tank exploded, throwing flames around the room. The entire house was in flames in a few minutes.

Only a few neighbors were at home. Many were in La Crosse at the time. The few at hand came to the aid of Mrs. Depper when she called for their help. Seeing that it was useless to try to save the house, they endeavored to get the furniture out, and Mrs. Depper is today at the home of a friend.

The illumination was so great that it could be easily seen in La Crosse.

Mrs. Depper gardens the few feet of ground about her cottage, and worked at the homes of islanders.

Widow of Former Alderman Succumbs Following Paralytic Stroke on Street Car

Mrs. Louisa Schulze, widow of the late Robert Schulze, alderman from the fifth ward and well known north side baker, died at four o'clock Saturday afternoon at her home, 832 Caledonia street.

Death followed a stroke of paralysis suffered Sunday, October 11, while on her way to services. The stroke was the second within a few months. Mrs. Schulze did not regain consciousness from the stroke.

Born in La Crosse Mrs. Schulze was born in La Crosse September 16, 1861, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Opitz. She was married on May 13 to Robert Schulze, at that time a business man of the south side of the city and later founder of the Schulze bakery on the north side.

She is survived by two sons, Arthur and Fred of La Crosse; three sisters, Mrs. W. J. Mather of Indianapolis, Ind., and the Misses Minnie and Emma Opitz of La Crosse; and two brothers, John Opitz, of Tacoma, Wash., and Carl Opitz of this city.

Funeral Tuesday Funeral services will be held at 2:30 tomorrow at the home. Mrs. John Harrier, reader of the Christian Science church will officiate. Burial will take place in Oak Grove cemetery.

NANOON-

JAPANESE CRUISER IS SUNK BY MINE ALONG COAST OF KIAO CHAU

TOKIO, Oct. 19.—The light Japanese cruiser Takachiho has been sunk by striking a German floating mine while patrolling of the harbor entrance of Kiao Chau, the German concession on the Shantung peninsula. Three hundred and forty-four of her crew were lost with her. Only thirteen were rescued. The disaster is the first of any real consequence to the Japanese navy in the present war.

The Takachiho was one of the oldest of the Japanese cruisers. She was built in 1885, was of 3,700 tons displacement; speed 18.5 knots, and was armed with 8 six-inch guns; two six-pounders; fourteen machine guns and four torpedo tubes.

The Decreased Consumption of Coffee has caused widespread alarm among the coffee trade. "There's a Reason"

Twenty years ago the manufacture of Postum was started in the small white building shown above. The business grew!

Doctors found that coffee drinking was hurting the health of people, right and left.

Chemists analyzed coffee and found this harm was due to two health-wrecking drugs, caffeine and tannin.

People injured by coffee stopped its use and started to drink

POSTUM

Twenty great factory buildings covering nearly ten acres now surround the little building where Postum was first made, and carloads of this wholesome food-drink are shipped daily to take the place of coffee on the tables of hundreds of thousands.

Each cup of coffee carries its dose of caffeine and tannin (about 2½ grains of each) and sooner or later symptoms of poisoning show themselves in headache, biliousness, heart disturbance, nervousness, indigestion, sleeplessness, etc.

Relief generally follows when one quits coffee and uses POSTUM.

Postum, a pure food-drink with a rich Java like flavour, is made of prime wheat and a small per cent of molasses, absolutely free from caffeine, tannin or any other harmful ingredients.

BOND JUMPERS ARE LOOKED FOR HERE

Sheriff W. B. Dyer, Lancaster, Grant county, Wis., arrived in La Crosse today, shortly after the police department received a message from Lancaster, asking them to locate persons by the name of Mr. and Mrs. George Mullenhead, wanted for operating an illegal house there.

According to meager information, the man and woman are at liberty on large bonds. The grand jury of Grant county recently indicted them, and when they were summoned to appear in court, they failed to do so. Chief of Police John E. Webber has failed to find the couple.

WHY BRIGHT'S IS THOUGHT INCURABLE

Bright's Disease is generally thought incurable, and largely because Digitalis and Basham's Mixture do not cure it. And why should they? One is for the heart and the other is a mild iron tonic. The reason nothing is given for the kidneys is that the pharmacopoeia has not contained an agent that by direct action on the kidneys diminishes albuminuria. Hence the treatment is around the disease instead of at it. Given an agent that diminishes albuminuria, then measures for the waning heart, etc., begin to mean something. The ability of Fulton's Renal Compound to diminish albuminuria in many cases of Bright's Disease IS A FACT IN PHYSICS established thousands of times and being constantly demonstrated. How can any one ignore a FACT IN PHYSICS when people are dying for lack of that very fact. It does not conflict, and can be added to the heart treatment, etc., commonly prescribed in Bright's disease. But many recoveries have been reported under the Renal Compound unaided in patients having fair hearts and recuperative power.

The extraordinary driving force imprisoned in succulent young mushrooms may be gathered from the fact that through a shop floor laid down in Dunedin, New Zealand, several mushrooms, from two to three inches in diameter, have forced themselves up into the light of day. OPENING GUNS OF BIG STATE FIGHT HEARD BY EIGHTY

When Harry Palmer was nominated for sheriff, you all remember that campaign. There were seven or eight candidates for the nomination and Palmer was nominated. Then for the sake of regularity we supported him.

"I tell you, gentlemen, it was a crime against citizenship, and after it was over I took a vow to myself and to my God never to do it again.

Sincerity Sacred. "There is something sacred in what a man believes in. In this campaign a man would be a traitor to himself to urge and vote for Philipp or Karel, when, down in his heart, he knows Philipp and Karel are wrong.

"Party loyalty was born when the railroads owned the state; when money and corporations controlled the great commonwealth of Wisconsin. They preached it day and night. Regularity! It is a damnable doctrine, conceived in iniquity and bred in special privilege.

"The law provides two ways to nominate a candidate. One, the primary; the other by petition. The law gives equal sanctity to each before the courts.

"I say put the issues in this campaign upon the ground of principle. We all know where Philipp and Karel stood. We all know where they stand today. The leopard cannot change its spots."

"Mr. Philipp is more vicious now because he is more of a hypocrite now than ever before, posing, as he does, as a quasi-progressive."

Wisconsin Behind

Mr. Thompson told of his recent visit to foreign countries, especially Germany, Norway and Sweden. He marveled at the progressiveness of these countries and maintained that Norway is so far ahead of Wisconsin that we are in the back woods in the progressive movement.

"After viewing the wonderful work being accomplished abroad," he said, "I couldn't stay out of the fight in Wisconsin after I heard who had been nominated."

He maintained that an independent candidate would have been necessary had the democrats nominated a progressive. He then reviewed the stalwart record of Karel while a member of the assembly citing instances where his votes were on the side of the interests and against the people.

"Dave Rose and men of his stripe are the backers of Karel," said Thompson.

The mention of Blaine's name was the signal for hearty and extended applause which was repeated when the speaker called attention to the fact that it was Blaine who introduced the resolution calling for legislative investigation of Senator "Ike" Stephenson's campaign expenditures, distributed among the "faithful" throughout the state.

Ready to be Counted

"The progressives now, as before, are all ready to stand up and be counted," he continued. "This is not a contest of men but one of the people, represented by Blaine, and the corporations and trusts represented by Karel and by Philipp."

"It is far better to be patriots than partisans. It is far better to follow our hearts than to follow a badge. Always fight for what you think is right. When you compromise with wrong you compromise with the devil. From childhood I have been taught that we can't serve God and Mammon at the same time. The line in this fight is clearly drawn."

"I have heard in La Crosse the argument that Philipp won't do any harm, that he, alone, can't stop progress. Would any of you men hire a farmhand whose chief recommendation was that he wouldn't do any harm?"

Assemblyman E. J. Kneen, recently renominated, opened the meeting with an explanation of his attitude. He explained that the meeting was

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Mrs. Philipp Jacobus is entertaining her mother, Mrs. J. B. Prideaux of Mineral Point.

Mrs. Mollie Austin spent Sunday in Caledonia, Minn., with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. J. Armstrong, Minneapolis, are the guests of friends.

In behalf of Blaine's gubernatorial campaign and the constitutional amendments which both Philipp and Karel are pledged to defeat.

Can't Support Karel

"I can't support Karel, even though I am a democratic nominee," said Kneen, "because I know that prior to the primaries a gang of railroad attorneys met in Milwaukee—they represented both parties—and determined to bring out Karel. They went out with petitions, not alone to stymie democrats but to stymie republicans, claiming him as their representative. Philipp wouldn't stand for this program—he for years having been the recognized standpat leader—and he entered the field."

Mr. Kneen told of his public announcement prior to the primary that he would support Karel neither in the primary nor in the election if nominated.

"I wanted the people to know exactly where I stood on that question," said the Bangor man, "and I won the nomination."

That "Bob" Shields, the man credited with "putting over" the Stephenson nomination in Wisconsin and the Lorimer nomination in Illinois, is now a democratic candidate for state senator and literally controlled the democratic platform convention was the declaration of Kneen.

Shields Fled State

"Shields, as you all remember, is the man who, during the Stephenson investigation, went to Michigan to escape testifying. He was next heard of in Illinois and when the Lorimer scandal came out he left the country. He was brought back by Uncle Sam, however, and his testimony Lorimer lost his seat in the United States senate."

"Karel and Philipp are yelling 'high taxes' and 'too many commissions,'" he said. "I defy them or any man in this audience to point out one single place where he would or could have reduced expense or commissions."

Neither Barber nor Watkins took the dare.

Senator Otto Bosshard declared that he owes no explanation to anyone for voting for Blaine. It was an old saying, he said, that one should "stick by the party, right or wrong." The rank and file knows that theory to be wrong, he maintained, and that the proper thing is to vote as conscience dictates.

He maintained that the issues in Wisconsin are the same now as before and that any progressive of either party would be stultifying himself if he didn't vote for Blaine. "He's a real progressive," he said, "while Philipp, for expediency, swallowed a luke-warm progressive platform."

"If you believed in progressive principles two and four years ago, how can you vote for a man who is campaigning on promises to kill these measures?"

He then reviewed the work of Philipp and his henchmen voting down each progressive constructive

Reviews Amendments

Mr. Bosshard devoted the major portion of his address to the constitutional amendments, explaining the initiative, referendum and recall, the home rule and the insurance measures.

All of the proposed amendments, he said, were in the interests of the people and framed to bring the control of government nearer the voter.

"And if any of you think we are wrong in bolting the party on the governorship," he said in closing, "just let me remind you that we got the example from our old friends, the stalwarts. I dare say that many of them have voted for democratic candidates times innumerable during the last fourteen years."

LIVING MODELS AT DOERFLINGER'S

Young Women from Windy City Show Off Season's Latest Creations to Great Advantage

May Burns, Marie Finley, Gertrude Young and Marguerite Karcher, Chicago professional models, startled an audience which was estimated at several thousand at the Park store Saturday.

Doerflinger's management have run model festivals in the past with fair success, but not until this year has La Crosse had the opportunity to view the latest fashions, evening gowns and the varied styles in other women's attire shown by women who are accustomed to displaying them, and who spend their entire time at the business.

With a stage erected at one side of the large second floor, the women showed crowds which packed the floor the latest fashions, while an orchestra furnished the incentive to graceful movement.

From morning until the store closed at night crowds continued to come and go. Superintendent Marble had a problem on his hands during the evening in handling the crowds.

TO OPPOSE BRITISH SEIZURE OF SHIP

Standard Oil Liner Is Held but Admiralty Courts Will Decide if Cargo Is Illegal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Intention of the administration vigorously to oppose seizure of the Standard Oil tanker Brindilla at Halifax by the British converted cruiser Caronia, but to leave the question of the Brindilla's alleged contraband cargo to the admiralty court for decision was evidenced here today.

Officials pointed out that if the Brindilla's cargo is in fact contraband, search and detention of the vessel, despite her flying of the American flag, was clearly within the rights of the British government. An appeal was expected today from the Standard Oil company. Until such formal request is received nothing can be done by officials here. Officials have not been advised of the nature of the Brindilla's cargo.

State department attaches expressed doubt today whether the British government intends to seize the vessel, believing the act of seizure was aimed to apply only to the cargo.

Three Taken Into Custody by Police Believed to Worked Crooked Game Here

COLLECTED MONEY IN ADVANCE

Merchants Paid for Advertising to Go on Stationery Covers at Local Institutions

Three people, two women and a man, have been arrested in Milwaukee and Chicago, through the efforts of Police Chief John B. Webber, thought to be members of a gang who fleeced hospitals in twenty-five cities on hospital advertising games.

The women are Miss Lola Hobbs and Margaret Murphy and the man gives the name of Clifton Ford. Ford and Miss Murphy were arrested in Chicago, following alleged attempts to throw officers off their trail. Miss Hobbs, only 21 years of age and believed to be a tool of Ford and the Murphy woman, was picked up in Milwaukee on descriptions sent out by Webber.

According to the police Ford and the Murphy woman came to La Crosse the first part of September and made arrangements with all of the local hospitals to furnish their stationery for the coming year free.

They explained that there would be covers to the stationery pads and that on these there would be "ads" to defray the expense. They would collect the advertising, they said.

Ford and the woman then left the town and soon after Miss Hobbs came here and solicited the ads, collecting the money in advance in most instances.

Up to date no writing paper has been received in La Crosse, neither have any of the advertisers seen copies of the alleged stationery covers.

Miss Hobbs claims to be innocent of any wrong and in this the authorities, including District Attorney D. S. Law, are inclined to coincide. Miss Hobbs was followed in Milwaukee by detectives. She so informed Ford and the Murphy woman in Chicago. They left their hotels there, leaving forwarding addresses for Pittsburgh and St. Louis. Neither went to St. Louis or Pittsburgh but, instead, stayed in Chicago where they were finally rounded up.

Detectives McGrath and Fitzsimmons were sent to Chicago to bring the pair to La Crosse, they having waived extradition. They will arrive this afternoon.

LA CRESCENT BOY KILLED BY WAGON

Leslie Kerrigan Thrown Beneath Massive Wheels of Lumber Carrier Saturday Afternoon

Leslie Kerrigan, 17, son of Mrs. Anna Kerrigan of La Crescent, died at St. Francis hospital at eight o'clock Saturday night, the result of an accident Saturday afternoon when the boy fell under the wheels of a lumber wagon. He sustained a fractured chest and internal injuries.

The boy was driving to his uncle's farm in Pine Creek and was three-quarters of a mile from La Crescent when the lumber wagon struck a gully, the lurch throwing the boy over the dash and under the wheels. One of several children in the wagon ran to a neighboring house for help. The hospital ambulance was called. The boy's chest was horribly crushed.

Surviving are his mother, two brothers and three sisters.

Funeral services will be held at nine o'clock Wednesday morning from the home in La Crescent and at 9:15 from the Crucifixion Catholic church, Rev. Fr. Henry Dolle to officiate. Burial will take place on the Catholic cemetery at Pine Creek.

He indicated his future action is not fully decided.

EXPECT MANY AT CHARITY MEETING

New Officers to Be Elected Following Supper at M. E. Church Tomorrow Night

Arrangements including reservation for one hundred and twenty people have been completed for the annual meeting tomorrow night of the Associated Charities. The meeting will begin with a supper at 6 o'clock at the First Methodist church.

President E. S. Hebbard will preside at the business meeting following the supper.

Miss Marie Peterson will present her report for the past year's work in the visiting nurse department, and D. C. Dewey will make the report for the humane society's work during the year. F. G. Tiffany, chairman of the nominating committee will present nominations for officers for the ensuing year. The election will take place immediately.

The newly elected president will then call on different persons closely connected with the work of the Associated Charities for speeches.

These will dwell on the place which the Associated Charities holds in this community.

Miss Nadia Thomas, newly elected secretary will give a talk on "Cooperation," as the fundamental principle of the society.

DOUBLES PLAY-OFF COMES WEDNESDAY

The remaining doubles matches in the county championship tournament will be played off Wednesday afternoon beginning at 4 o'clock at the Country club courts. Bearmore and Kircher will finish their postponed match with Hankerson and Lee, and Stickle and Radford will play Moore and Benetzel. The winners in the first match will play Kline and Gouldin, and the winners of the second match will meet Schulze and Birkko. The finals will also be played the same afternoon.

GERMAN LOSS 193 IN NAVAL CLASH

Practically All Officers of Destroyers Sunk Saturday by British Are Lost

BERLIN, (Via The Hague), Oct. 19.—It was officially admitted today that 193 men, including practically all of the officers, were lost when the British cruiser Undaunted and a flotilla of four British destroyers sunk four German destroyers off the Dutch coast. The destroyers which were sunk were all built and put into commission in 1912. They were the S-115, S-117, S-118, and S-119. They were 210 feet long and of 123 tons displacement, armed with three four pounders and two machine guns each. Of the surviving members of the crews, said to be 31, all are held by England as prisoners of war.

Forsaken by Son Mother Kills Self

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 19.—"Mother" Elizabeth Soukup, who was 79 years old, ended a long estrangement from her son, Anton, by taking poison Saturday morning.

Suppressing signs of her torture, she talked with her son John, his wife and their daughter Genevieve, whom she loved, for more than six hours, without letting them know what she had done. She said it was only a passing illness and that soon she would be all right. They thought it was not necessary to send for a physician.

Shortly before noon she kissed Genevieve and sent her out of the room. A little later a physician found that she was dead.

Forsaken by Everyone About eighteen months ago she became estranged from her son Anton, who lives in Cazenovia, Wis. In the two notes which she left, she wrote of that.

"I want to return to God," she wrote. "My heart is broken. Everyone has forsaken me. John, but you and your wife. Please forgive me for what I am going to do."

LONDON SCENE OF RIOTING AGAINST TEUTON MERCHANTS

Anti-German Disturbances Spread and the Police and Troops Are Busy

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Anti-German riots which today are taking place in various suburbs of London have kept the troops and the police on edge. The chief center of trouble is the Deptford district, where practically every shop operated by Germans or those of German descent has been wrecked and one burned. The rioting has been led by the dock workers.

At Saffron many persons were injured in the rioting. At Walden the mob charged the home of a leading councillor who was charged with harboring Germans and his household goods were destroyed while he himself was severely beaten.

The chief complaint of the rioters is that the police have been inactive in stamping out espionage. Hundreds of letters have been received by the leading newspapers, all complaining that the Germans were able to keep the Kaiser and his officials posted on all movements of British troops on the progress which was being made by the recruits and of everything that was being done in the dockyards and arsenals. Denials by high government officials have been disregarded and the temper of the mob is becoming increasingly bitter.

PARALYSIS TAKES HERMAN H. BERND

Herman H. Bernd, 1116 South Fourth street, the last charter member of the Third Ward Aid society, and an old settler of La Crosse, died at his home Saturday at the age of 64 years.

Bernd was an employee of the La Crosse Plumbing and Supply company. He was taken with a stroke of paralysis early last week.

Born in Sachsen, Germany, Bernd came to La Crosse in 1872. He was married later to Miss Elizabeth Bach, who survives him. Three children were born. One son, Herman H. Bernd, Jr., survives.

Funeral services will take place at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the home. Burial will be made at Oak Grove cemetery.

ALLEGED HEIRS TO FORTUNE DISAPPEAR

La Crosse Ridge Farmer and Wife Leave Aged Horse to Starve on Bluff Farm

Joseph McGinley and family, who claimed a few weeks ago to have inherited a fortune of $50,000 from an aunt in Southern Indiana, left their farm on Granddall bluff last week without the knowledge of neighbors and left a horse to starve.

Humane Officer D. C. Dewey on Saturday afternoon found an aged horse starving on the premises. He notified Veterinarian George F. Sulme, connected with Dr. F. F. Holmes and he, with Frank Wolfe, patrolman, drove to the old Edwards' place occupied by the McGinley family, and shot the animal.

Investigation showed the farmhouse deserted. Nothing but an old mattress was left in one of the rooms. Not a wagon or farm implement is on the place.

McGinley told men the city weighing station on Market square last week, that he might go to Indiana with his wife to claim the fortune.

Neighbors of the McGinleys were mystified when told that the house had been deserted. They claimed not to have seen the McGinleys making preparations to leave.

SIMPLE EXPLANATION OF ALL AMENDMENTS

WHAT THE AMENDMENTS DO.
 (By Herman L. Ekern.)
 A bad law enacted by the legislature may be rejected by a vote of the people by the REFERENDUM.
 A good law defeated by the legislature may be adopted on a vote of the people by the INITIATIVE.
 A bad public officer may be gotten rid of on a vote of the people by the RECALL.
 Under HOME RULE a city or village may frame its government or do as it needs so far as not prohibited by constitution or general law. An overburdened legislature must now specifically authorize everything to be done—big or small.
 The SHORT AMENDMENTS permit change of state constitution by vote of the people, either on petition or on a submission by one legislature.
 The STATE INSURANCE amendments enable the legislature to provide any kind of state insurance the people want, requiring annual accounting and safeguarding of the funds.
 The JUDICIAL CIRCUITS amendment permits the legislature to consolidate districts to get along with fewer circuit judges and to better distribute their work.
 The CITY IMPROVEMENTS amendment gives the benefits of street and park improvements to all the people instead of a few favored speculators.
 The LEGISLATORS' PAY amendment substitutes 2 cent for 10 cent mileage and fixes $600 a year instead of $500 for two years as far as pay to the men we hire to make laws for more than 2 1-3 million (2,332,869) people and for 3 1-6 billion dollars ($3,172,989,154) of property.

MORAL COURAGE.
 Moral courage is more worth having than physical courage. It is more worth having not only because it is a higher virtue, but because the demand for it is more constant. Physical courage is a virtue which is almost always put away in the lumber room. Moral courage is a virtue that is wanted day by day.—Charles Buxton.

Dog Ghosts.
 The phantom dog specter was one of the hardest of old English superstitions. Almost every county had its black dog which haunted its lonely spots and was the dread of every native. Most of them were regarded as devils, but some were held to be the spirits of human beings transformed thus as a punishment. Lady Howard, a Devon notable of the days of James I., for instance, was said to be compelled to haunt Okehampton in the form of a dog as a punishment for her cruelty to her daughter.

CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN AT ONCE, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

In One Minute Your Stuffy Nose and Head Clears, Sneezing and Nose Running Cease, Dull Headache Goes.
 Try "Ely's Cream Balm."
 Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone. End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.
 Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.
 Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

PHILIPP SCORED BY JAMES STONE

Reedsburg Attorney in a Scathing Indictment of Republican Candidate in Open Letter

"DON'T DESERT" WORD TO JOURNAL

Pleads with Milwaukee Newspaper to Stand by Cause It Has Espoused for Many Years

James A. Stone of Reedsburg, in an open letter to The Milwaukee Journal in which he appeals to that paper not to desert its progressive policy, has published a sweeping indictment of Emmanuel Philipp as the personification of the stalwartism of the special interests.
 Mr. Stone's letter follows:
 JAMES A. STONE
 Attorney-at-Law
 REEDSBURG, Wis.
 October 16, 1914.
 Editor Milwaukee Journal, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.
 Dear Sir:

For the past fifteen years I have been a regular reader of The Journal. I have admired the consistency with which it has promoted progressive principles advocated by La Follette, indirectly at all times and directly sometimes, aided Republican Progressives in Wisconsin. The Journal has secured a constituency throughout the state in this way which is a valuable asset. It cannot afford to waver now.

I have been much surprised at the apparent support given to the Stalwart candidate for governor. True, The Journal advocated an independent candidate for governor provided that candidate be La Follette, but notwithstanding the principles at stake it has opposed the candidacy of any other man. It seems to me that wherever the leaders in a political party fail to so conduct the primary campaign as to present candidates who stand for the well settled principles of the party for many years, that every independent voter within the party owes it to himself for the highest party reasons to advocate the nomination and election of an independent candidate whose record and attitude insures the extension and up-building of those principles.

Since 1889 the statutes of Wisconsin have provided for independent candidates. The purpose of that law as well as of all our election machinery is to secure the best good of all the people. Party government must yield to that which makes for the general good. It is unfortunate that as a result of the primary election the candidates of both parties for governor represent the Stalwart, interest-serving elements among our people. It is plainly to be seen under such circumstances that the interest of the people lie in an independent candidate provided that candidate stands for those things in government which will best promote the interests of all.

For the last twenty years Wisconsin Progressives have been fighting to preserve individual independence and to protest against the aggressions of combined capital represented by railroad and other corporate interests. We have advanced the cause farther than in any other state. Progressives cannot consistently support Philipp because:

Of the company he has kept. He was Babcock's lieutenant and choice for chairman of the State Central committee in 1900. The men who aided Babcock in his corrupt political campaigns are Philipp's chosen friends.

Of his record as the representative of the brewing and transportation interests in the lobby at Washington and at Madison.

Of his active opposition to regulation of railroads in Wisconsin by a commission.

Of the "Red Book" written and published by him in the interest of the railroads.

His selfish interests as the owner of refrigerator transit lines performing service which ought to be performed by railroads themselves.

His main support comes from those claiming to be "regular" Republicans now who have been irregular for the past fifteen years.

He has the support of those Republicans who preferred Rose to La Follette for governor.

He has the support of those Republicans who supported Karel for governor two years ago. He has the support of the men who accepted and used Stephenson's money in that corrupt senatorial campaign.

He attacked all recent Republican administrations in the state during his primary campaign.

Philipp, the Stalwart candidate for governor, combined with a Bull Moose candidate for Senator for mutual political preferment in the last platform convention.

He made no contest in the platform convention by way of minority report in support of any principle for which he stands.

He afterward declared himself independent of party and of the party platform and insisted that he stood just where he stood before the platform convention met upon the declarations of his primary campaign.

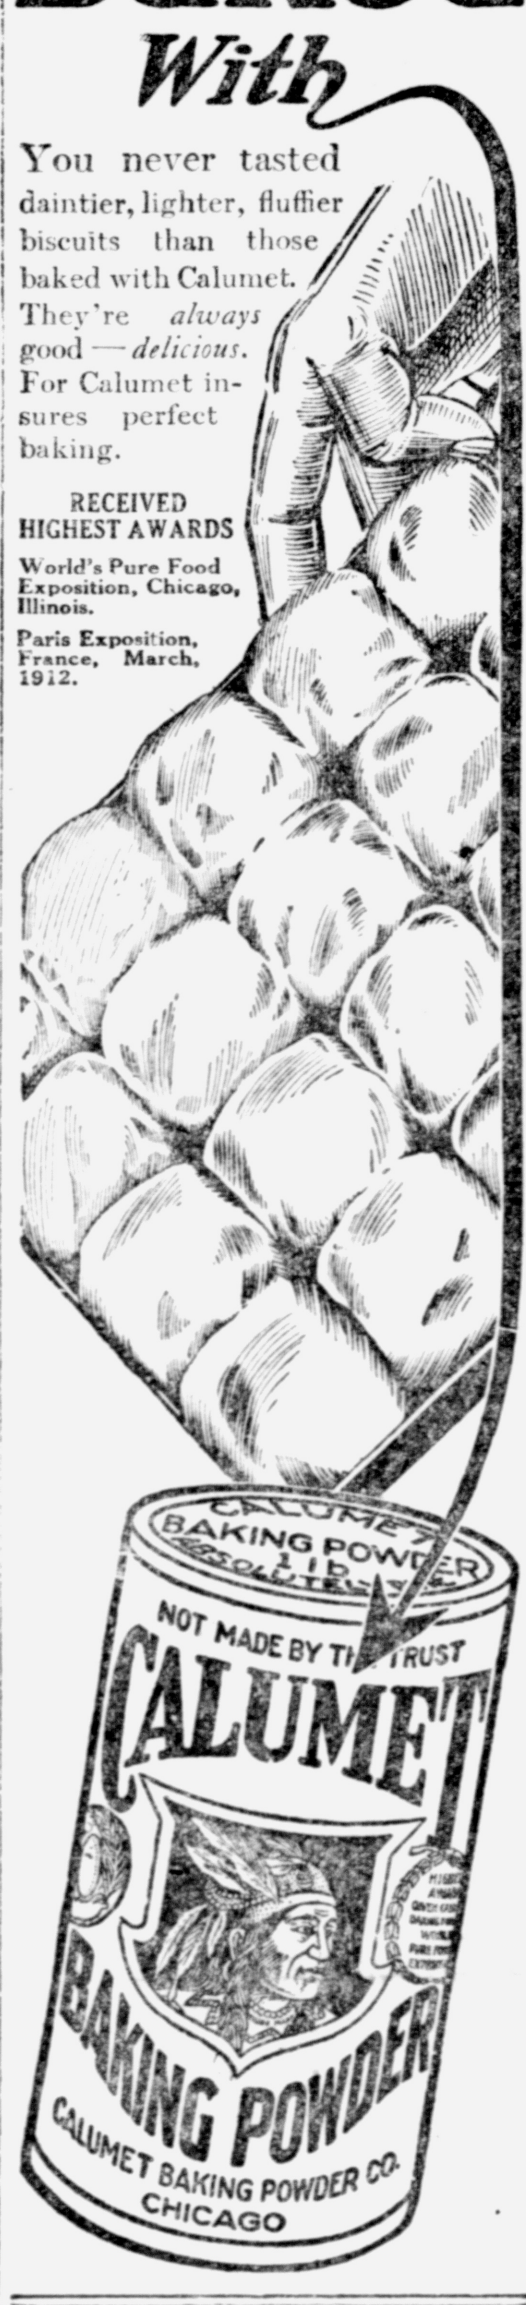

This declaration itself is justification for the independent candidacy of Blaine.

In the name of "harmony" he violated the long established precedent in Republican conventions of endorsing the caucus choice for members of the Central committee by the representatives from the Congressional district.

Progressives cannot support Karel because he stands for the same elements in the Democratic party which dominates the Republican supporters of Mr. Philipp.

Progressives in both parties should give their hearty and unyielding support to John J. Blaine because he stands consistently upon a platform of principles which has been their guide for the past twenty years.

His record is evidence of his sincerity and ability. Because to John Blaine more than any other man belongs the credit of exposing the immense corruption fund distributed by Stephenson in his last senatorial campaign. Because he favors the proposed constitutional amendment which gives greater power to the people and less to the politician.

For these and many other reasons I shall give my support to Blaine for governor. I trust that every Progressive in the state will do likewise regardless of the hue and cry about "regularity." The people's interest is above that of any party. The best good of the party can be secured only by advancing the principles which have controlled the party activities in the past. "Forward," then in the people's interest with Blaine.

Respectfully,
 JAMES A. STONE.

A SURE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp—At Once

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

Champagne Ally Against Germans

CRECY-EN-BRIE, France, Oct. 4, by Mail to New York.—A new ally has joined the triple entente against Germany according to the inn-keepers of the district in the north of France, over which the German army recently retired after their march to the gates of Paris.
 Champagne has declared war on the Germans.
 Unaccustomed to the heady "bubblerwater," the Germans in their invasion of France, treated the wine like their own light Rhine vintages. They entered Rheims, Chalons, Epernay, Aye, all the great wine centers, and everywhere they went they drank champagne. The inn-keepers of the district of the district declare the Germans consumed millions of bottles.
 The defeat of the Marne was "the morning after."

SPOTLIGHTS

PARIS CRITICISM OF RUTH ST. DENIS

"Miss Ruth St. Denis is henceforward the beloved child of the poets whose dream she is going to make real. The night before last she had a triumphant debut. Her dances called forth the admiration of the Paris crowds. The latter, according to the saying of a celebrated critic, are overflowing with enthusiasm. As a matter of fact, never such an intense vision of art has come to stimulate our spirit and over-excite our curiosity. Indeed those are not the puerile dances, pompously advertised and afterward recognized delusive, which too often have deceived our hopes. In the first place, the subtle invocation of Brahma, the redoubtable god, amidst incense, the light thread of which makes a divine dress for the priestess, then the Snake Dance, interesting in the highest degree, so real, by dint of learned magic—becomes the apparition of the divine reptile protected by Shiva. At last in the dance of the Senses, the successive incarnation of human pleasures which Radna gives up at the end to lose herself in the Nirvana, the renunciation which pleases Brahma."
 "A lyric would be necessary to sing the praise of Miss St. Denis."
 This great artist and her assisting company, including Native Hindoos and Japanese dancers, will appear at the La Crosse Theater on Saturday evening, October 24th. Seats ready Thursday morning. Mail orders now.

Cause For Thanks.

Lord Chief Justice Clerk Braxfield was a man of few words and of strong business habits, and consequently, when he courted his second wife he said to her: "Lizzie, I'm looking out for a wife, and I thought you just the person to suit me. Let me have your answer on or off tomorrow, and name your price." The lady next day replied in the affirmative. Shortly after the marriage Lord Braxfield's butler came to him to give up his situation because he could not bear his ladyship's continual scolding. "Man," Braxfield exclaimed, "ye've little to complain of; ye may be thankful ye're no married to her."

Capital Letters.

As to the abolition of capital letters, how would a movement fare for the lowering of that assertive pronoun "I"? Our ancestors in the days before print had plenty of choice in the matter, writing of themselves, according to taste and fancy, as: Ik, ic, ich, yk, yche, i, j, l, y and Y. But printing finally established the I. Yet today when one comes across an illiterate person dispensing with the capital to which he does not know he is entitled it offers no difficulty to the reader. And one could write for print in the convenient first person singular more freely if that capital did not somehow increase the egoism of it.—London Chronicle.

OUR FEARS.

It is not what a thing is, but what we think it is, that frightens us. A man walks within an inch of death without knowing it and therefore without trembling, and then his hair stands on end at some empty, harmless noise.

Oh, What Cake! OVENGOLD Made It

Ladies, Ladies, It's Come—OVENGOLD Makes the art of fine cake-making easy—With OVENGOLD you can make the daintiest cake any time in three minutes.

OVENGOLD is the marvel of all good housewives and cooks! You just can't believe all that OVENGOLD does until you actually see the results. You merely add water to OVENGOLD and then bake, and out of your oven comes a delicious cake as ever was baked—light, dainty, tasty, glorious!
 No matter how good a cake-maker you are you can't make a better cake than OVENGOLD makes, and you don't have any work, any worry, any danger of its falling or puffing. You use up no eggs, no butter, no milk—nothing but water. And no matter how poor a hand you are at cake-making, you can't help but have the most delicious of cakes with OVENGOLD for it's all done for you. You just add water and bake.
 OVENGOLD is wonderful, but it's true and you can prove it. Just get a 25-cent package of your grocer and if OVENGOLD doesn't do just as we say, you get your money back. Nearly all grocers sell OVENGOLD. If yours does not, just send his name to us, enclose 25 cents and we will send you a full-size package prepaid. Allmade Bakeries, Detroit, Mich.

Stilton Cheese.

The secret of making Stilton cheese was for some time confined to the family of the original inventors, who were under an engagement to sell all they could make to the famous Cooper Thornhill of Stilton. Being thus to be obtained of him alone, it received the appellation of Stilton cheese, but it would have been more appropriately named Wichet cheese, being first made in that village, on the eastern side of Leicestershire, about thirty miles from Stilton.—London Standard.

FAITH IN-YOURSELF FELLOW MEN YOUR CITY

These three essential things are necessary to achieve success in a certain undertaking now being watched by all the people of La Crosse.

FIRST: You must believe in your own capacity for success—your own ability to rise head and shoulders above the other fellow.

SECOND: You must believe your friends—your neighbors will do for you what you would do for them under similar circumstances—that other people want you to succeed, but they will not help unless you show the right kind of spirit.

THIRD: Your home city is all right—it is what you make it. There is nothing the matter with La Crosse. It appreciates a hustler and will put him or her on the map any time. Talk La Crosse—its people—its industries, and you will be surprised to find out how much it will do for you.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

BANK STATEMENT

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Last week's actual bank statement, issued Saturday, showed the following changes: Deficit decreased, $67,709. Loans, decreased $4,423,000. Specie, increased $4,678,000. Legal tender, increased $1,441,000. Net deposits, decreased $3,792,000. Circulation, increased $2,088,000. Aggregate cash reserve (total) $434,566,000.

CLOSE LEAD MINES

FLAT RIVER, Mo., Oct. 19.—All mines of the St. Joseph & Doe Run Lead company in the lead belt are closed as a result of orders to cut the production. Single men have all been discharged, and married men hereafter will be employed five days each week. Reasons for the action was that lead sales have decreased. Twelve hundred miners are affected.

Dexterous Dentist.

"It was a dreadful moment," said the dentist. "I was bathing quietly, when the great cavernous jaws of the shark opened before me." "What did you do?" asked one of the ladies. "I took my forceps out of the pocket of my bathing-suit and pulled his teeth before he had a chance to seize me. It was the quickest and neatest bit of work I ever did."

Never Can Be Wasted.

The work an unknown good man has done is like a vein of water flowing hidden underground, secretly making the ground green.—Carlyle.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

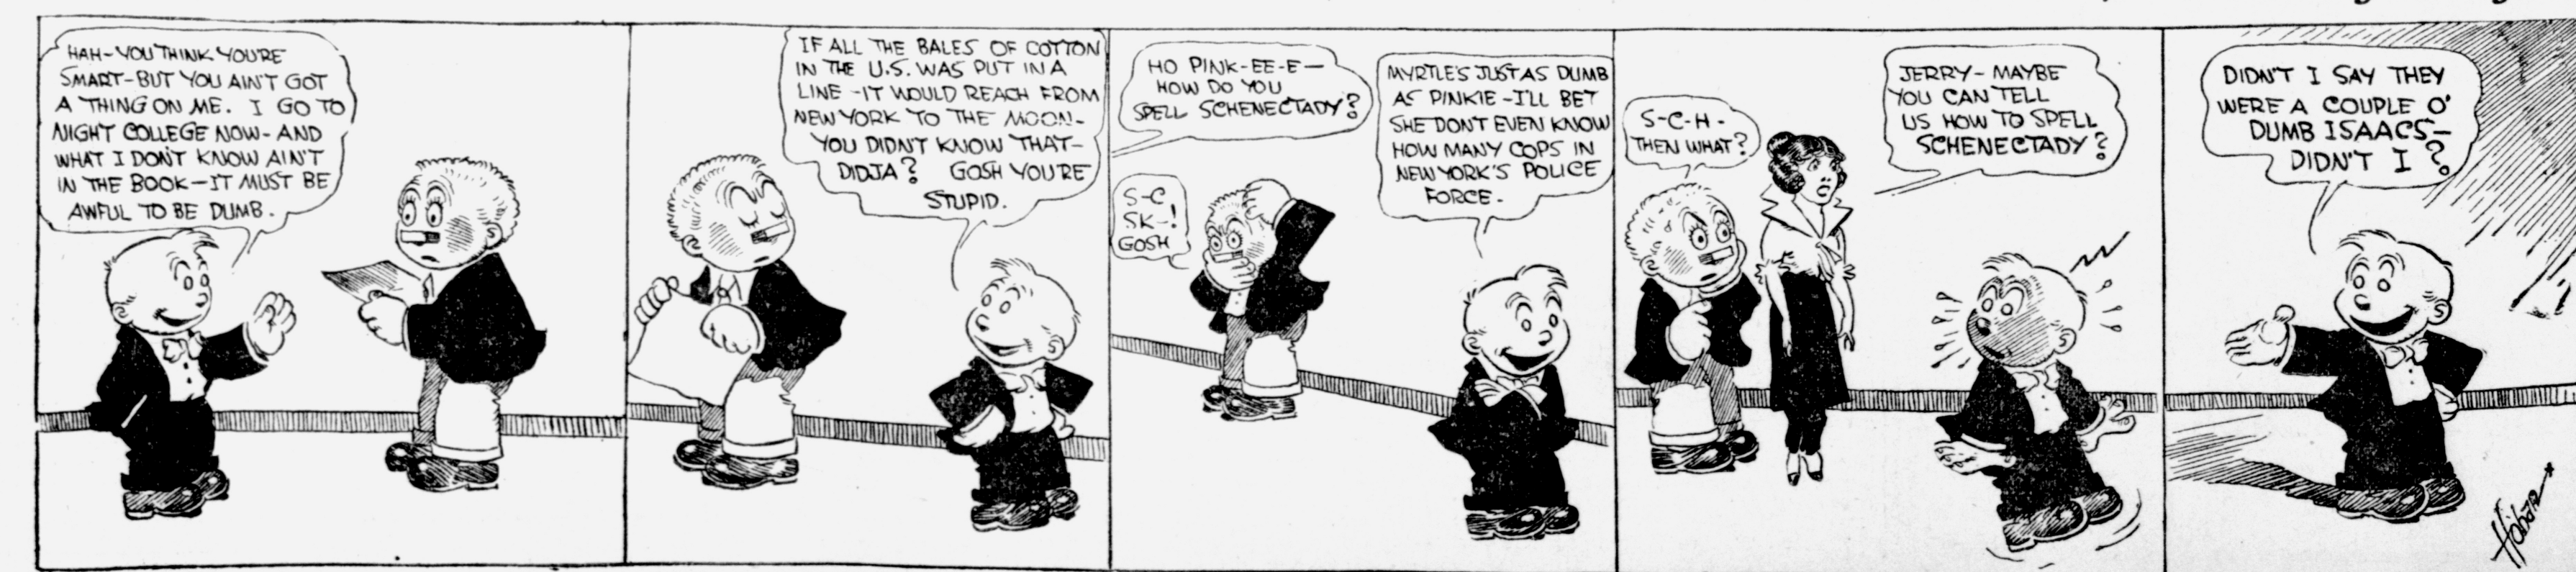

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Chas. A. Beyerlag, druggist, 503 Main St.

RACE CLOSE FOR MAJESTIC AUTO

An almost neck and neck race is on between the four leaders in the Mitchell automobile contest at the Majestic. Miss Ed Corcoran leads the list with a total of 31,830 votes and Miss Mate Collins is a close second with 31,550. Mrs. G. Anderson is but 36 votes behind Miss Collins. Miss Marie Peterson, visiting nurse, is forging to the front and is a safe fourth with 31,040.

With the exception of fifth place, occupied by Raymond Huebner, the remaining contestants are distanced at present.

First in Diamond Industry.

Years ago Amsterdam was at the head of the diamond industry in Europe; of late Antwerp has forged ahead and taken first place. Amsterdam very largely specializes in small stones and its superiority over Antwerp in cutting these diamonds is unquestioned.

Lime Mortar is Ancient. The use of lime as binding material for mortar originated in the remote past. It is probable that some savages when using limestone rocks to confine their fire noticed that the stones were changed by the action of the heat. A passing shower may have slaked the lime to a paste, and they discovered that the paste was smooth and sticky and was a better material than clay to fill the crevices in their crude dwellings. From this discovery it was but a step to add sand to the paste in order to produce a mortar.

Women and the Koran. The primrose path was no blithe and gladsome way for the Mohammedan woman. Originally the penalty for female unchastity was imprisonment for life. This was changed later to stoning for married women and 100 lashes and exile for one year for unmarried free women. For slave women one-half of the penalty was imposed.

Greatest Musical Nation. To say of any one nation that it has "given us the best and most charming music" would be a rather hazardous statement. Italy has given us much fine music, and so has France, and Austria, and England, and even the United States. Perhaps Germany has the best claim to be called the leading musical nation. Certainly no other nation can show greater music than that which was composed by Beethoven, Mozart and other artists from the Fatherland.

Young Cuckoos Are Jealous.

The English cuckoo, like the American cowbird, leaves its single egg in the nests of birds much smaller than itself, like the hedge sparrow, the pied wagtail and the meadow pipit. When the young cuckoo—a veritable giant in comparison with its nestmates—is a few days old, it pushes its companions out of the nest and thus becomes the sole object of the care of its tiny foster parents.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Wheat had a sharp advance today. Liverpool cables were extremely bullish and export houses were buying. One wire house had orders for 250,000 bushels. The market responded to active bidding with an advance of 1 1/2c over Saturday's closing figures.

Corn futures advanced a shade to 3/4c in the forenoon trading, deriving strength chiefly from the bullish wheat market.

Oats moved up 3/4c on fair export demand and the bulge in wheat.

Provisions were lower, lacking support from the hog market.

Wheat continued to gain steadily until the close, adding 5/8 to 3/4c in the afternoon. Corn and oats futures moved upward a shade to 1/2c in the afternoon. Provisions advanced toward the close when prices were

BADGERS DOWN TOUTED PURDUE

KEELER STARS AT TACKLE

"Tubby" Blocks Punt that Results in First Cardinal Score; Buck Plays Old Game

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 19.—Wisconsin opened its conference schedule at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon by defeating Purdue 14 to 7. Coach Andy Smith's bunch had the Badgers licked at the end of the first half by a score of 7 to 0, but in the second period the Cardinal's superior work in the line earned them a touchdown in each quarter. Wisconsin's victory over Purdue gives Wisconsin an equal chance with Chicago, Minnesota and Illinois for the conference title.

Although Purdue played Wisconsin a little better than even in the first two quarters, a continual pounding at the Boilermakers' line by the heavy forwards of Wisconsin soon had its weakening effects, and in the second half Wisconsin had a decided advantage over their Indiana rivals.

In less than eight minutes after play started Abrell, Purdue's left half, received the ball on Wisconsin's forty-five yard line and after plowing his way through the line, shook off one defensive Badger player after another, running the entire length of the field for Purdue's long score.

The Purdue touchdown didn't seem to dishearten the Badger warriors. It seemed to enrage Capt. Keeler and his co-workers in the line, for that time on they gave a wonderful exhibition of football. Keeler and Buck especially seemed to realize the importance of a strong defensive game, for these two line veterans found little difficulty in getting the Boilermakers' offense, breaking in on nearly every play.

In the second half Wisconsin opened with renewed strength. After exchanging several punts Bellows kicked over Pultz's head, the ball rolling to Purdue's 26 yard line. On the first down Keeler broke through the Purdue line and blocked O'Brien's punt. Buck picked the ball up and ran twenty yards for Wisconsin's first touchdown. Bellows tied the score by kicking goal.

Wisconsin changed their style of play in the last quarter to a more open game. The perfect passes to Keeler and Buck, respectively, and a 15 yard run by Taylor placed the ball within a yard and a half of another touchdown. For three downs the fighting Boilermakers held Wisconsin from crossing the line, but finally Breckenridge was pushed over on a shift play for the winning touchdown. Bellows made it even more secure by kicking goal.

Capt. Keeler played the best game of his career. Mucks, the big Oshkosh boy, also plugged up a big hole in the varsity line. Tom Kennedy deserves much credit for the line strength.

Honors in kicking were not even. Neither Bellows nor O'Brien showed any exceptional ability in punting, although both did well. The lineup:

Wisconsin—Stavrum, lb; Buck, lb; Schmidt, McMaster, lb; Kennedy, c; Mucks, rg; Keeler, rt; Kelley, re; Bellows, q; Cummings, lb; Freeman, Taylor, rb; Kreuz, Breckenridge, f.

Purdue—Stinchfield, Eldridge, lb; Blocker, Buchner, lb; Borum, lb; Bishop, c; Routh, rg; Cecil, rt; Rakestraw, re; Pultz, q; Abrell, Van Aiken, lb; O'Brien, rb; Oxer, Van Aiken, O'er, f.

Touchdowns—Buck, Breckenridge, Abrell. Goals after touchdowns—Turner, 1; Bellows, 2. Time of periods—Fifteen minutes. Referee—Eckersall of Chicago. Umpire—Porter of Cornell. Head linesman—Hammond of Michigan.

NORMALS BURY STEVENS POINT

Coach Carter's Pigskin Artists Toy with Men from the Point and Take the Game in Walkaway

STRUM AND IMMELL STAR

Big Back Makes Two Scores Before Retiring with a Sprained Hand; Locals Drive Hard

By a score of 38 to 0, a rung fixed in the ladder to the state normal school championship, La Crosse normal Saturday afternoon sent the men from Stevens Point home with their title hopes blasted. The Pointers were impressed with the play of the locals as well as with their own weaknesses.

Eighteen men were used by Coach Carter in the game. The men put in have now had a taste of the game and will be better prepared for substitution in the more important games to come. Strum retired from the game at the close of the first half with a sprained wrist, after playing at quarter and registering two of the six touchdowns of the game. Byers went in at the pivot. The locals started the game with a jump and pushed Strum over for the first score inside of five minutes of the start of play. Immell kicked goal. Strum registered again in the second quarter on a series of line plunges after a beautiful 20 yard skirt around left end by Dickens. Immell kicked goal. The first half ended with the score 14 to 0 in favor of La Crosse.

Dickens scored the third touchdown in the third period, making a ten yard run around left end after the locals had carried the ball down the field on a series of line plunges. Immell missed goal. On the kickoff Byers carried the ball back for thirty yards and a few seconds later Immell went over for the fourth score. He missed goal. Stevens Point got the ball on downs toward the close of this quarter and came near a score when Gustin took the ball through the La Crosse line and made for the open field with only Byers to stop him. The big quarterback nailed the Pointer fast in one of the most spectacular tackles ever seen on a local gridiron.

In the last period, the locals secured the ball on a fumble and carried it to their one yard line, where the Pointers braced and held La Crosse to downs. They punted to safety and a few seconds later Erickson took the ball over the line on a perfectly executed forward pass from Byers. Dickens missed goal. With the rooters clamoring for another score, the locals sent little Oliver over for the last touchdown of the game toward the end of the final period. Dickens missed goal.

The score:
La Crosse.....7 7 12 12—38
Stevens Point.....0 0 0 0—0

The lineup:
La Crosse—Le, Erickson, Buell; H. Wachtel, lb; Marston, Lee; c; Dickens, rg; Taylor, Jackson; rt; Dickens, Wolfe, Youngberg; re; Byers, Marston; qb; Strum, Byers; lbh; Oliver, rbh; Lewis; fb; Immell.

Stevens Point—Le, Pipe; lt, Guscin; rg, Thorson, Blume; c, Reilly; lb, Blume, Held; rt, Murphy; re, Schadewald; qb, Peterson; lbh, Klueck, Hills, Moeller; rbh, Van Tassell; fb, Robinson.

The summary—Touchdowns, Immell, Erickson, Oliver; goals from touchdowns, Immell 2. Referee, Pettijohn, Minnesota. Umpire, Spence, Wisconsin. Head linesman, Radford, Chicago. Time of quarters, 15 minutes.

CATHOLICS FALL TO YALE ATTACK

Notre Dame Beaten by Four Touchdowns in Important Intersectional Clash at New Haven

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 19.—Yale upset all calculations on Saturday afternoon when it rolled up twenty-eight points against Notre Dame and held the whirlwind Indiana eleven scoreless in its debut into eastern football.

All the breaks in the game went Yale's way. In the second half both periods ended with the ball in Notre Dame's possession, less than five yards from the Eli goal posts.

The triple and forward passes of Wilson, Legore and Ainsworth and the plunging attacks of Knowles featured Yale's game.

TOMAH BEATS PORTAGE

TOMAH, Wis., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Overcoming a tie of 7 to 7 at the beginning of the second half, Tomah high school on Saturday defeated Portage by a score of 27 to 7. The Tomahites came back in the final periods and swept their opponents off their feet.

BUSINESS PROSPERITY.

No Reason for Industrial Depression.

Prosperity is a happy state. It depends upon good credit, stable prices, employment of wage earners, and a general confidence in the future.

Of late there seems to have been an unnecessary amount of business depression, due mostly to the lack of fairness of one class toward another, and to a little dishonesty or overreaching scattered through all the classes, but not in a majority of any of them.

In a country of our enormous natural wealth, we should have little to worry about. The United States, with its insular possessions and Alaska, is nearly as large as Europe. Our coasts are indented with excellent harbors and intersected by internal waterways, and we have, by far, the finest and cheapest cost railroad transportation in the whole world, making communication cheap and easy. We have tremendous water power and every variety of climate and soil. Magnificent forests cover a great area of our territory. Our land is liberally stocked with almost every variety of mineral wealth, and with our vast agricultural wealth we lead the world in a great many things.

When corporations are renovated and their ill-sired by publicity and when business men begin to feel a renewed confidence, and when political "cure-alls" who have never made a success of their own affairs, quit offering "remedies" for all sorts of imaginary troubles; when we have full publicity in politics and government; when business managers and employees treat each other fairly, the causes for apparent depression will disappear and real prosperity will return and stay with us.

HIGHS VICTORS BY BIG SCORE

Locals Outplay Eau Claire and Win by Four Touchdowns; Will Meet Grand Rapids Saturday

For the first time in the athletic relations of the La Crosse and Eau Claire high schools, the locals emerged victors Saturday in a top-heavy score, 27 to 3, at Eau Claire. The only Eau Claire score was made by a drop kick by Langum from the 15 yard line.

The locals outweighed Eau Claire 27 pounds to the man. Only once did the lumberjacks threaten, in the third quarter, when they advanced the ball to the La Crosse fifteen yard line on a series of passes and line plunges and Langum sent the oval through the bars for a goal.

Captain Fay, Blatter, Bruha and Regret scored for La Crosse. The big leader went over the line with in a few minutes of the start of play. Regret made three of his four kicks from touchdowns.

KONETCHY MAKES JUMPS TO PIFEDS

"Big Train" Annexes Signature to Three Year Contract with the Smoke Team

The break has come. Eddie Konetchy, Pirate first baseman, has definitely announced his plans to quit organized ball and cast his lot with the new league.

Konetchy will play at the old town of Pittsburgh, but not with the Pirates. The Federals will have the services of the big first sacker. Ed is loath to state his terms, but it is known that he has signed a three year contract with the outlaws. The terms are the very best, according to him.

Every time the train is on time at our town 15 people get left behind they always fidget on it being an hour late. The railroad surprises 'em by havin' a train on time about once every three months.

SPARTA ANGRY AT REPORT OF LOSS

Hunting for Correspondent Who Sent Word Over the State that Reedsburg Won Saturday Game

CENTERS ABOUT DISPUTED PLAY

Reedsburg Claimed Safety and Sparta Said Touchback and Referee Was with Sparta

SPARTA, Wis., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—All Sparta is angry today, and is looking for the correspondent who sent broadcast over the state stories that Reedsburg won the football game played with Sparta Saturday. The score was seven to six for Sparta, and several newspapers printed the score variously as 9 to 7 and 8 to 7 favoring Reedsburg.

So incensed were the Spartans over the story, that a statement was issued by the high school authorities defending their claims of a Sparta victory. The statement follows:
"Just what prompted the correspondent of Milwaukee papers at Reedsburg to report a victory for the Reedsburg team in their last Saturday's game with the Sparta school is a mystery, but that report, nevertheless was sent in. The game ended with Sparta as the victors instead of Reedsburg, and the score was 7 to 6 instead of 8 to 7 as previously published. Traveling salesmen and teachers who have no interest in either school have expressed themselves as surprised that such a report should be sent to newspapers when the Reedsburg team and a great many Reedsburg people sustained the decision of the referee and declared it was Sparta's game without any question."

Oshkosh Highs having been eliminated from the championship race, negotiations have been opened with West Green Bay for a game later in the season.
The cause of the conflicting reports that Reedsburg won centers about a play in the latter part of the game, which Reedsburg claimed was a safety, and Sparta insisted was a touchback. The referee upheld the Spartans.

It doesn't make much difference how much money a feller has got just so he has got plenty of it, and a man doesn't have to live to be 150 years old to find that out, either.
